

Terms of reference

The story of ScenAfrik is cared by the hope of a new consciousness, based on an alternative approach, pro-active steps, uplifting a creative Africa promoting positive actions.

The ScenAfrik movement sets the scene of Africa through the appropriation of its assets to fight its illness. The priority is to act in order to serve!

The action is raised over all to bring solutions. Each ScenAfrikan have to act toward our mantra "I love my country, I get involve! I love my continent, I get involve!

Contexts & justifications

Africa is a continent with endless potentials from the human resources to the natural resources necessary to its development. From that moment on it is important that men & women gather their efforts to shift Africa toward the socio-economical development that we all expect.

It's precisely at this level that the movement ScenAfrik has emerged to gather all Africans and African lovers to get involve the process of development and to promote the unity of the continent. This through several approaches.

The alternative approach

An idea can always change someone's life and revolutionized the future of people.

It's like a light brightening in the darkness. A ScenAfrican always has to get the audacity to carry the ideas for the success of the best.

The pro-active step

The way from X to Z is never a straight route. You have to dare to move forward. Why being scared, it's sometimes good to get lost in order to find yourself. The pro-active step prioritizes the creation of the ways for the triumph of the solutions.

Being pro-creative

In each ScenAfrican, there is a genius to reveal, a personality to emerge, a potential who wants to do amazing things and a creative soul to nourish. Being pro-creative, it's to refuse to be a prisoner of the fatalism & the wait-and-see. Being pro-creative is to commit to always create, invent, innovate and renovate. From now on Africa can't miss the universal appointment of the creation.

Being pro-positive

The pessimism is the black sheep that beat the positivism. It's not enough to just reclaim the optimism. You have to be pro-positive. Each ScenAfrican has to have the ability to stay serene against the commotions that shake his destiny. Positive hope leads to a positive solution. By being pro-active we learn from failure to achieve success.

Unite the members animated by the same ideal to create within creative and solidarity relationships

Most important Africa take his responsibilities face to afro descendants , its time to join hands . The door of light of our victory have to be opened.

Come back " You Have to Know your past to master your present and draw an almost perfect line for your futur" Coach Rama Ata gaye.

Promote the development of Africa based on hope, endurance, performance and freedom to deconstruct the fatalism in order to reveal the brightness of each African.

Favor a consciousness of the African elite et mostly from the youth who's an asset for Africa.

Establish successful partnerships with different structures public and private around the world.

Develop the ScenAfrican spirit across the continent et overseas especially the proactive spirit, the procreative.

Reinforce the capacity of youth in order to better tool them to take their own destiny in hands.

Organize an economic plate-form that the establishment is done by the KEVORE agency.

Africa on stage with its assets

Too many tears, weapons, crimes and victims caused devastating ailments to Africa. But do we ear the tears that don't stop the horror. Up to Africa to overcome the tragedy. Up to the Africans to pave the new way. Up to the African citizens to take their destiny in hands. The pathetic images of an Africa pf misery and war that are spread all around the world, won't bring any consolation neither solutions for our continent. However, only Africa can save Africa. Our continent had all the assets to reinvent its leadership, to consolidate its democracy, and revitalize its economic model and to insure the emergence of its inclusive development.

We rely on many forces to overcome our weaknesses

Availability of the soils

Hydraulic resources

Mine and oil resources

Increasing growth rate

Creative, artistic, numeric, technologic and economic potentials.

Entrepreneurship & partnerships

Human-youth capital

Definitely, the sense of duty is calling us to act to overcome the setbacks. None of us have the right to give up. To quote Alpha Blondy "the African has to stop to be the enemy of Africa". Our actions have built a wall against the despair. Women and men have the responsibility to work relentlessly to free Africa from the fatalism and the miserabilism as nothing is impossible. Our ideal is achievable. We need to keep four fundamental principals in mind to accomplish our panafrican dream:

- We have to believe in ourselves to mark out our way (like Ghandi)
- The ambition inspires the mission (like Mandela)
- The refusal of the blind submission (like Rosa Parks)
- Dare to go further (like Césaire)